

Media Alert

Republican National Convention Coverage

On Monday September 1, 2008 television news coverage of Hurricane Gustav replaced planned coverage of the Republican Convention on most broadcast and cable networks. As a result, Nielsen will not be providing audience estimates for Monday night's convention.

If normal convention coverage returns on Tuesday, Nielsen will plan to provide combined network audience estimates similar to those from last week's Democratic convention.